

I just purchased a digital television. Whatever protection scheme is employed should not make my $3000 device useless. You already agreed on a national standard, and I made my purchase based off of that standard.